"Office Closed Labor Day" – The city office will be closed Monday, September 7th in observance of Labor Day.

"New Requirements from Eastern Idaho Public Health" – Due to rising cases in the area, a mandatory mask requirement has been placed for Bonneville County in any area where 6 feet social distance cannot be maintained. For additional information and restrictions please refer to the Eastern Idaho Public Health Website:
<https://eiph.idaho.gov/>

Prevent. Promote. Protect.

"Book Sale" – The library's book sale is ongoing until further notice. It is only 2 dollars per bag. Books are located in the FOIL room behind the library, on the bottom floor of the city building.

"Bingo Blackout Contest" – Iona Library will be holding bi-monthly Bingo Blackout contests starting October 1st. The first contest is for Iona JR patrons ages 12 and under. Starting Thursday, October 1st, participants can pick up a bingo sheet at the librarians desk. Complete it and hand it in by 6:00pm October 31st to be entered to win one of two backpacks!

"Back to School" – Schools across District 93, including Iona Elementary, will begin school on Monday, August 31st. This is an exciting time for families. Please be mindful of the children's safety and obey traffic laws. Please remember, it is NOT permissible to drive or park vehicles on the bike paths. We urge parents that drive their children to school to use the school drop off lane in front of Iona Elementary. This will allow greater safety for children walking or riding bikes to access the school from Denning Avenue, and Iona Road

"Library Hours Changing" – The library's hours will be changed due to story time being suspended. The hours will now be Monday through Saturday 1pm-6 pm.

"New Office Assistant" – The city hired a new office assistant. Rylea Farrens is here to help you in any way she can. Please e-mail her at office@cityofiona.org with any suggestions or feedback for activities, or. Your input is invaluable in making our city a wonderful place to live.

"New City Clerk/Treasurer" – Keri West, formerly the City Clerk, was sworn in on August 18th as the City Treasurer. She now has the title of Clerk/Treasurer. To send your congratulations please e-mail her at cityclerk@cityofiona.org. We're so blessed to have such a dedicated public servant serving our community!

Public Works

"Water Conservation" - As in past years, we are asking people whose address ends with an odd number (ex. 245) to water on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, those with an address that ends with an even number (ex. 356) to water on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. On Sunday, please limit your watering to the bare minimum. Thank you!

"Public Restrooms and Drinking Fountains" – In an effort to protect the City employees and our guests, the public restrooms and drinking fountains at the Iona City Park will be closed for the summer of 2020. For your convenience, there will be portable toilets available at Iona City Park and Pioneer Park through September, which will be cleaned and maintained by the providing company. Please take necessary precautions to adjust to these temporary changes.

"City Parks" – Our parks remain open, but it is up to the individual using the park to be aware of and follow safety guidelines. The surfaces are not being regularly disinfected by the city, so please be cautious and use at your own risk.

"Animals Running at Large" – As a reminder, Iona City Code 5-3-12 states, "All animals found running at large are declared public nuisances and may immediately be impounded in the Animal Control Shelter without notice to the owner." We strongly encourage all owners to keep their animals under control and on their premises. Thank you.

Important Information

The City of Iona's Planning & Zoning Commission has scheduled the following Public Hearings on the evening of September 9th, 2020 at 6:30 p.m. at the Iona City Building, which is located at 3548 N. Main St, Iona, ID. Subsequent Public Hearings will be held by the City Council for final approval on September 15th, 2020 at 7:15 p.m. The Public Hearings are as follows:

"Final Plat Application" – A Public Hearing will be held to consider a Preliminary Plat Application submitted by HLE, Inc, for the "Pam Addition" on the NW corner of 49th North and 55th East.

"Conditional Use Permit" – A Public Hearing will be held to consider a conditional use permit application, Doug Tolbert to wrok on RV units inside the detached shop at 2758 N. Barnes Way

"Amendments to City Code" – A Public Hearing will be held to consider amendments to Iona City

Code § 11-11-26, pertaining to Private Access Roads.

"Fence Permit Now Required" – In order to insure the safety and correct placement of new fences, a permit will now be required to build a fence on a property line. To cover the costs of the inspection and processing there will be a 50 dollar permit fee.

Local Events

"Trunk or Treat" – The trunk or treat will be happening one way or another on the 31st of October in the afternoon. We are currently looking for volunteers to have trunks, but space is limited as we will be offering an incentive to each person who signs up! In the case that we cannot hold a traditional trunk or treat we will have an alternative, where the City will come to you. Information for the different plans is available on our website. All sign-ups will also be available on our website, via phone call, or e-mailing to sign up at office@cityofiona.org. More information will be available as we get closer to the date, so watch your e-mail!

"Veterans Day" – We are excited to be hosting our annual Veterans Day Program this year on Wednesday, November 11th, at 7 pm. We are excited to be able to honor all who have served our country. Light refreshments will be served. This year, we would like to send personal invitations to our City's Veterans for this and other City events. If you are a Veteran, please contact the City at 208-523-5600 or via email at office@cityofiona.org. Thank you Veterans!

This placeholder article provides the following tips:

- Creating “thermometer charts” using tables, as shown at left.
- Setting up multipage articles.
- Wrapping text around images
- Adding article titles and bylines

Creating the sidebar thermometer charts

When you work in Word 2010 (or PowerPoint 2010), you have the full power of Excel 2010 charts (provided that Excel is installed on your computer). Insert a chart in Word from the Insert tab, in the Illustrations group. Charts are easy to create and use and automatically coordinate with your active document theme.

However, notice in the sidebar at left that the “thermometer charts” were created using single-row Word tables. This is because they automatically fit the tight space without having to remove any chart elements. And you might be surprised to learn that it’s easy to make them essentially mathematically accurate.

To use a table as a thermometer chart, do the following:

1. On the Insert tab, in the Tables group, click Table and then drag across the grid to select the first two cells in the first row. Click to insert a two-cell, one-row table.
2. Click in the table and then, on the Table Tools Layout tab, in the Table group, click Properties.
3. On the Columns tab of the Table Properties dialog box, change the Measure In setting to Percentage. You can then set the percentage to up to one decimal point in accuracy.

Setting up multipage articles

Word is designed to allow text to automatically flow from one page to the next. So, when you want an article to continue on the next page, just keep typing.

In the case of this placeholder article, it is separated into two placeholder content controls (one on this page and another that starts at the top of the following page) just so that you can still see the layout of the following page while you begin adding your own text on this page. As mentioned on the first page of this template, remember that it might look like the layout is skewed when you replace a long piece of placeholder text by starting to type your own, but it is not. As you add your content, the layout that follows will move down automatically and back into position.

To remove the second placeholder control that starts immediately following this one, just select it and then press any key. You can

Notice the image of the young woman that's within a text column on the preceding page. The background has been removed from that image to allow text to wrap directly around the subject.

Office 2010 introduced several new and improved picture formatting tools in Word, PowerPoint, and Excel. Among those is the Remove Background tool that you can use to remove backgrounds from your own images, similar to the sample image on the preceding page.

then continue typing from this page and your text will automatically flow onto the next.

Wrap text around images

The photos in this article that are angled with white borders are “floating” images. That is, they are setup for text to wrap around them—which is why they can span multiple columns in a three-column section. Additionally, as mentioned earlier, the photo of the young woman in the body of this article is set to wrap text so that text will flow around the image as you add your own text.

To select text wrap settings, start by selecting the image and then do the following:

1. On the Picture Tools Format tab, in the Arrange group, click Wrap Text and then select either Square, Tight, or Top and Bottom—depending on how you want the text to wrap.

You might be happy with the default behavior as soon as you do this. Otherwise, continue to step two for customization options.

2. To set a specific position or control behavior (such as whether or not the image moves with text), on the Picture Tools Format tab, in the Arrange group, click Position and then click More Layout Options.

- On the Text Wrapping tab of the Layout dialog box, you can set a specific distance from the image for text to wrap and control whether text can wrap on

To do this in Word, first insert your image into the document (on the Insert tab, click Picture), and then select it. Then, on the Picture Tools Format tab, in the Adjust group, click Remove Background.

The Remove Background feature automatically displays what it believes to be the central subject of the image. However, it's easy to adjust this if the immediate result is not what you need.

On the Background Removal tab, click Mark Areas to Keep or Mark Areas to Remove and both sides, one side only, or just above and below the image.

- On the Position tab of that dialog box, you can set a specific position for the image on the page and select or clear the option to allow the picture to move with text.

Adding article titles, bylines, and dividers

The article titles and bylines for this newsletter are created in text boxes. This is because text can wrap around a text box just like it can around a picture. Similarly, the orange divider bars that you see on pages containing more than one article are shapes set to wrap text. So, these text boxes and shapes can easily span multiple columns without having to insert a section break or change the number of columns for just that portion of the page.

When you select a text box or a shape, on the Drawing Tools Format tab, in the Arrange group, you have the same settings for text wrapping and positioning that are described above for wrapping text around pictures.

Note that, because text is set to wrap around the orange divider bars, your article might appear to slip below or above a bar, depending upon length. To adjust the position of a divider bar shape to accommodate the length of your articles, just select the shape and then use the up and down arrow keys on your keyboard to nudge it to the proper position.

then drag your mouse pointer in a line across the portion of the image you want to add or remove. When you are finished making adjustments, click Keep Changes.
